RACE-TRACK DATE QUESTION.

Racing Periods Have Already Been Promised the New Local Course.

Motions adopted at the last meeting of the Western Jockey Club, when it was decided that new tracks would not be granted dates unless their organization was up-proved by the club, has led to some dis-cussion in sporting circles as to whether the new Union Jockey Club track was one of the courses at which the measure was aimed.

the courses at which the measure was aimed.

Captain P. J. Carmody, manager of the course, said yesterday that his track had been guaranteed dates by the lookey club and that no course, with a regularly built track had ever been refused racing time. "We have received assurances that dates will be granted us," said he, "and this measure about the organization of courses was adopted long after the inception of our track. The Union Jockey Club is an organization of more than a year are. This rulling is a thing of yesteroay. I have the most profound regard for the Western Jockey Club members.

"The measure was probably adopted to keep small, cheaply constructed courses from springing into being at all points where racing now exists. It has no bearing on first-class courses."

While Captain Carmody made no reference.

while Captain Carmody made no reference to the matter, the fact that the Western Jockey Club seems to have legal troubles of its own in Chicago was taken up. Racing there is conducted largely by political 61 fluence, and it is against the State law for bets to be made on the races.

DILTHEY-GAEBLER.

VETERAN TOM COX DIED FROM WOUND.

Shot Received in Encounter With Highwayman Sunday Evening Resulted in Death.

Trainer's Brother on the Way Apparently Indifferent to the Pro-Here From Jersey City, Where His Body Will Be Taken.

Tom Cox, the veteran trainer at the Christian Brothers College, died last evening at 10:20 o'clock in the Rebekah Hospital, where he had been taken after his encounter with a highwayman two evenings Injuries received in the attempted hold-up resulted in his death. His brother, John Cox, is now on his way o this city to take charge of the body which will most likely be buried in Jersey City, N. Y., Cox's former home. The body was taken to Donnelly's undertaking establishment last evening and will remain there until this afternoon

Tom Cox was unmarried and was 43 years old. He has two brothers living, besides a mother and sister, who reside at Titusville Pa. He was born at Union City, Pa., and was a schoolmate of Doctor J. B. French of this city, who now resides at No. 2200 South Second street.

For the last three years Cox has been one of the best-known trainers in the city. He has prepared the students at the Christian Brothers College for all their athletic vents and has developed some well-known performers on the football field, cinder path and in athletics. He was responsible for the perfect condition in which the C. B. C.

Cox was once a pressman on the New York Herald, but was always interested in athletics, and was a sprinter of note in his younger days. He had a good education but preferred to follow the open air life afforded by professional athletics. He took up pedestranism, after he had lost his ex treme edge of speed as a runner, and made quite a name in this branch of sport.

When a hig walking event was scheduled for the Coliseum a few years ago Professo "Eill" Clark had pulled off one or two small races of the sort in his natatorium. Cox came to this city. He figured in one o the events, and then became attached to the Christian Prothers' Colege as trainer. RECORD AS TRAINER.

His work there was always a feature. Last year, when Doctor Todd was coaching the C. B. C. team, Cox's training resulted in every man being in perfect condition throughout the season. The result was a steady series of victories for the college. Besides training the boys, Cox earned con siderable note by inventing the hurdles used in the State athletic meet. These hurdles could be used for either the 129-yard event, in which high hurdles were required, or in the 220-yard event, in which low jumps were used. By simply turning the framework of the hurdle the heighth was changed in stantaneously Brother Gideon of the Christian Brothers College, who attended to athletics at the institution last season, speaks most highly of Cox's work at the college. Besides at-Cox instructed the boys in manual training and was a good teacher in both branches of his work. Memorial services will most likely be held at the college. Brother Gldeon advocated such a step last evening, but it was thought best to wait and discover the wishes of his brother on the point.

The injuries which resulted in his death were received Sunday night. He had been on a visit to No. 3009 Park avenue and was returning when a masked man attempted t hold him up. Instead of obeying the com mand to throw up his hands, Cox struck the man over the head with an umbrella receiving a shot in the abdomen in return Tetanus set in.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Union, Mo., July 14.-By agreement of the attorneys the examination of prospective jurors in the Collins case began at 2 o'clock this afternoon. This was an unexpected turn of affairs and two of Collins's afterneys were out of town.

Twenty-four men who compose the regular venire drawn for this term of court were examined as to their competency to sit as jurors in the Collins case.

Nine were found who were willing to qualify to sit in the case. They are: Rol-ert Craig, John Hensler, August Brock, Ferd E. Schweer, H. Vieten, J. H. Roummelsmann, C. E. Lewis, W. H. Detmer and Charles A. Cole.

All these men are farmers except Cole. who is a school teacher. The sixty men who are summoned to appear here to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock are from the northern and western part of the county. Neither Sheriff Bruch nor Deputy Vedder was permitted to summon the jury on account of being witnesses in the case and closely identified with the prosecution. Collins was in the courtroom about three hours this afternoon during the examination of the venire and seemed indifferent to the proceedings. He laughed and joked with the guard sitting near him. There were not twenty spectators in the ourtroom during the proceedings. There is no demonstration on the street that would indicate anything unusual in court. Sheriff Bruch keeps the prisoner closely guarded.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Union, Mo., July 14.-Joe Smith, who lived with his mother and half-brother on a farm eighteen miles west of Union, came home last night and shot his half-brother, John Rhodus, with a shotgun at close range. Young Rhodus started to run to a neighbor's, but fell exhausted by the roadside. When found, soon afterwards, he begged to be killed to end his suffering. The load of buckshot entered his abdomen. He was

Smith was found walking in the yard and the aged mother was lying dead on the support of the indictment, and that, as a porch. Smith was brought to Union and placed in fall this morning. He claims that he did not know his brother was shot until he was brought home, and did not know his mother was dead. Rhodus died at 11 the history of the lighting bill, of the House clock this morning.

The Coroner's jury decided that the mother's death was caused by the nervous shock produced by her son's shooting the other in her presence.

Smith had been in the town of Leslie all He went to the kitchen, where his half me he had been whipped, and he went home feeling quarrelsome and out of sorts. He passed his mother, who was sitting on the porch, blind and almost helpless, suffering with a cancer. He went to the kitchen, where his half brother was cooking supper, and began to accuse him of being teo friendly with the man who had whipped him at Leslie. The two brothers had some hot words, when Smith left the room, and Rhodus said he supposed he had gone to bed. In a few moments Smith unexpectedly re-turned with a double-barreled shotgun and discharged a load into his brother's body.

Smith is 45 years old and unmarried, John Rhodus was 28 years old and unmarried The mother was very old and had been suf fering with a cancer for years. The case will be investigated by the Franklin County Grand Jury, which meets CHANGE OF VENUE DENIED. Lehmann's application for a change of cenue was overruled by Judge Ryan at the morning session of court. No arguments were made upon the point. The application was made upon the same grounds brought out in support of such motions at previous boodle trials. Judge Ryan saw no reason to reverse former rulings, and ordered that

The peremptory challenges were anounced and the jury chosen from the panel of twenty-four. The Circuit Attorney read the indictment and made an opening statement, rehearsing the facts which the State stood ready to prove. The initial witnesses, those needed to answer to matters of record and to technical details, were then called. The trial was interrupted by the taking of testimony upon a plea of abatement, introduced by Attorney Rowe in the Lehmann Suburban deal perjury case, that reversed by the Supreme Court and set for retrial Thursday, William H. Lee, who was foreman of the Grand Jury which indicted Lehmann for perjury, and H. A. Bock, stenographer to that Grand Jury, testified as to the time at which the perjury indictment was found and returned Rowe's object was to show that Lehmann had been indicted, immediately after he committed the perjury before the Grand Jury, and that the Grand Jury could not have taken any evidence from others in consequence, the Grand Jury had not the right to bring the indictment.
